

Virtually All
Prisoners Freed

PARIS (AP)—Allied Supreme Headquarters announced today that except for a few stragglers, all British and U.S. prisoners of war have been brought out of Germany.

Some 167,800 British prisoners and 91,000 U.S. prisoners have been recovered.

A.S.H. said 2,413,000 displaced nationals of the United Nations had been repatriated, leaving 2,068,000 to be returned home. In addition, 31,000 Italians of the 271,000 found by the western Allies have been sent to Italy.

U.S. Tariff Debate

WASHINGTON (CP)—The U.S. Senate this afternoon continued discussion of the proposal to extend the reciprocal trade agreements, including provisions empowering the President to cut tariff rates by as much as 50 per cent in some instances.

Fire On Wharf

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Fire which broke out in a wooden building at the West India Dock here today was prevented from spreading along the waterfront by the prompt action of firemen and shipyard workers.

The blaze was believed to have started in a box of rubbish lying near the dock building. The wharf was not seriously damaged.

Suffers Relapse

CANBERRA (CP)—Joseph B. Chifley, acting Prime Minister, told the House of Representatives today Prime Minister Curtin has suffered a slight relapse from lung congestion.

Speculation that Mr. Curtin, granted two months' leave to recover from a persistent illness, might not be able to return actively to office was heightened.

Jap Army Seizes
All Motor Trucks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Japanese army took over control of motor truck and other "small freight transportation" today as Premier Kantaro Suzuki's government acted swiftly to put into effect the "wartime emergency measure" granted by the four-day Diet session which ended Tuesday.

Former Madagascar
Governor Arrested

LONDON (Reuter)—Armand Annet, Governor General of Madagascar when British and Fighting French forces invaded the big Indian Ocean island in May, 1942, has been arrested at Casablanca, Morocco, Paris radio reported today.

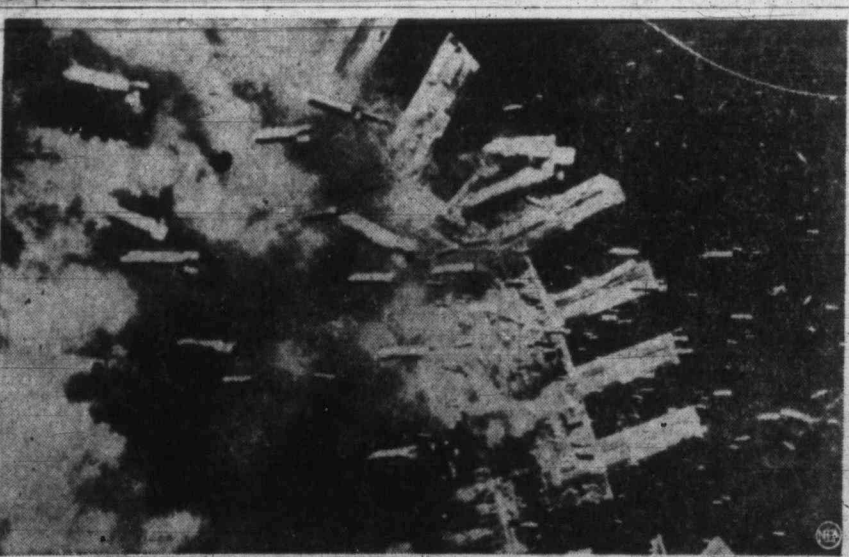

The charges against Annet were not stated in this dispatch. He ordered resistance when Madagascar was invaded and did not capitulate until September, 1942.

Say Leopold Sent
Hitler Telegram

BRUSSELS (AP)—Ernest Rongvaux, Belgian Minister of Communications, said in an official statement today the Belgian telegraph services possessed a telegram from Adolf Hitler to King Leopold thanking the King for birthday congratulations.

The telegram in the files of the telegraph service, is the same as that which was recently pictured on the front page of the newspaper Le Peuple, he said.

Tuesday, the Belgian news service, Belga, said King Leopold had denied he had sent a message congratulating Hitler on his birthday, and that he knew nothing of any reply.

SUPERFORTS KAYO KOBE WITH INCENDIARIES—Thousands upon thousands of incendiary bombs cascade down on the commercial dock area of Kobe, Japan's sixth largest city. The city, like other Nippon war centres put to the torch by Superfort raids, was already reeling under the impact of fierce fire raids.

Russians Deny
U.S. Leaving
Occupation Zone

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass news agency said today it was authorized to deny a London News Chronicle statement that the United States Army was evacuating the Russian Occupation zone in Germany.

"The same newspaper," Tass said, "also reports that the Americans could evacuate the entire area within a few days if the Russians could occupy this area with their troops within the same period, but shortage of Russian forces allegedly prevents this."

"Tass has been authorized to deny the report of the News Chronicle about the beginning of the evacuation of the Soviet occupation zone in Germany by American troops as contrary to the facts."

"Tass has been authorized to state there will be no delay in occupation by Soviet troops of the area from which Allied forces will be withdrawn."

Soviet Radio Says
Murder Camp Kept
Near Edinburgh

LONDON (Reuter)—The Moscow radio charged today that a Polish concentration camp exists at Inverkeithing, Scotland, where "absolutely innocent people are being done away with."

Where Poles who "refuse to serve the reactionary cliques" of the London Polish government allegedly were killed in attempts to escape.

Quoting Pravda, official Soviet newspaper, the Moscow radio alleged that what it termed the prewar "Polish Fascist concentration camp system" was preserved when Poles connected with the London government fled Poland after the German invasion.

"In Scotland they found for it a cosy shelter," the article asserted. "There, at Inverkeithing, almost in the vicinity of Edinburgh, is the camp of the Polish reaction where absolutely innocent people are being done away with."

"All around Inverkeithing British rules and British laws prevail, but at the camp, surrounded by barbed wire and isolated from the rest of the democratic world, lies a patch of Fascist Poland."

Warsaw Regime
Reorganization To Be Talked Soon

LONDON (AP)—Polish and Big Three representatives will discuss reorganization of the Polish provisional government in Moscow Friday, it was announced today.

A British foreign office commentator said "a very serious deadlock has been broken," but cautioned that "it is contrary to all our experience to say it is going to be clear sailing from now on."

A simultaneous announcement in London, Washington and Moscow said reorganization of the Warsaw regime on a broad democratic basis as "provided for in the Crimea agreement on Poland" would be discussed in the Soviet capital by representatives of Britain, Soviet Russia and the U.S., spokesmen for the Provisional Government in Warsaw and Polish Democratic leaders.

Uganda Bakes 'International' Bread in Pacific

Aboard the Uganda in the Pacific, Chief Cook Frank Daws of Vancouver is all smiles as he shows off the "International" loaves of bread baked in Canada's new cruiser, now serving with the British Pacific Fleet. The signs show how much the Uganda is getting around these days. Her bread is baked with flour from Australia, milk from Canada, lard from the United States, yeast from Egypt, salt from Ceylon, sugar from England and water from the ship's supply. In the first six months after her commissioning, the Uganda traveled 25,000 miles. She carries an all-Canadian crew.

Soldier Vote Coming In Quickly
Result May Be Available Monday

By NORMAN MACLEOD

OTTAWA—Possibility that the overseas soldier vote—remaining factor of uncertainty in determining the final result of the federal general election—may be known on Monday next loomed here today.

Previously the expectation had been that this vote would not be known until next Wednesday. The office of Chief Electoral Officer Jules Castonguay intimated today, however, that collection of the results was proceeding with greater expedition than had been anticipated, and that it might be possible to make public the figures some time Monday.

In view of the closeness of the civilian voting in upwards of two score ridings across the Dominion, the results of the soldiers' balloting are being awaited in federal circles with highest interest.

What is at stake in the overseas returns is not the ability of Prime Minister King to form a government: the Liberal chieftain is certain to remain in a greatly superior position to any other group leader to carry out this responsibility.

The issue involved in the soldiers' vote is, rather, the extent of any—upon which the Liberal government which has been returned will be dependent upon the co-operation of other groups in the new Parliament for support of its legislative program. At the present time Mr. King has a precarious majority which he owes to M.P.'s from Quebec province who ran as "Independent" Liberals, but have since indicated their intention of returning to regular Liberal alliance.

Federal Cabinet
To Meet Tomorrow

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King has called the federal cabinet to meet Thursday for the first time since the Liberal administration was returned to power on the basis of civilian votes in Monday's general election, it was learned today.

There was no intimation of what would be discussed at the meeting.

While reports spread that Hon. C. G. Power, former Air Minister, would be taken back into the cabinet to succeed Gen. McNaughton, some persons in Parliamentary circles said it was unlikely any cabinet changes would be made until the result of the service vote is known June 19.

Maj.-Gen. Hoffmeister In Ottawa
On Way to His Pacific Command

OTTAWA (CP)—Maj.-Gen. Bert M. Hoffmeister, 38, Vancouver, commander of the 6th Division of 30,000 men assigned for duty with United States forces in the Pacific, arrived at the Rockcliffe airport near here today, alighting from the big transport plane which had brought him on the last leg of his flight from Britain by way of Sydney, N.S. He is the first Canadian divisional commander to return from the European theatre since the end of the war with Germany. He led the 5th Armored Division in Italy and western Europe.

He was driven from the airport to an Ottawa hotel, where he was scheduled to hold a press conference later this afternoon. Tomorrow he will be accorded an official reception by Prime Minister King, after which he will lunch with members of the Canadian general staff.

Staff Men Come
With Their Leader

In the general's party were four of his top staff men—Brig. H. A. Sparling, 34, of Toronto, chief artillery officer of the 1st Canadian Corps and previously chief artillery officer of Gen. Hoffmeister's 5th Division, and Brig. Arthur E. Winch, 36, of Vancouver, chief signals officer of the 1st Canadian Corps and previously chief signals officer of the 5th Division.

At the airport to meet the general were Mrs. Hoffmeister and their seven-year-old daughter, Margot. Also there were Mrs. Winch and Mrs. Sparling.

Victoria Soldier
Says Troops Prefer
Germany to Pacific

VANCOUVER (CP)—There is a preference among Canadian soldiers to join the occupation army in Germany rather than volunteer to fight in the Pacific war against Japan, it was stated here today by Sgt. Leslie William Bayliss, R.C.A.M.C., of Victoria.

One of 27 overseas veterans who arrived here from overseas, he said the offer of "first home for Pacific volunteers" is certainly influencing many Canadians to sign for Japan.

"But," he added, "a surprising number of the boys have signified they would rather line up with the occupation forces."

Sgt. Bayliss was overseas more than four years and spent 22 months in Italy with the Army Medical Corps.

His opinions were supported by Pte. Carleton Mallory of Okanagan Falls, who fought with the Canadian Scottish in Germany. Mallory came home on compassionate leave, but agreed that his next choice would have been "occupation force."

Japanese Destroy
Huge Oil Storage
Tanks On Borneo

By JAMES HUTCHESON

BRUNEI BAY, Borneo (AP)—The Japanese fired west Borneo's rich Seria oil field storage tanks Tuesday night—even as Allied forces did before the Japanese captured this island with its vast stores of oil early in the war.

Hundreds of thousands of gallons must have been destroyed Tuesday night alone. I counted 18 tank infernos from a boat which went within one mile of the shore in the Seria vicinity.

Seria is 60 miles south of the point where Australian troops landed three days ago on the Borneo mainland at Brunei Bay.

The Australians sped their southward push in the general direction of Seria by making a small scale amphibious landing on the Brunei River. The landing, 15 miles from the original invasion point, cut behind Japanese who were opposing the push toward Brunei town.

The main force was nine miles from Brunei when the amphibious operation was made to close the pincers.

On Labuan Island in Brunei Bay, where the largest Australian force is involved, a drive pushed two miles beyond the captured airstrip.

Japanese in several strong pockets are resisting mostly with rifles and machine guns, although one artillery piece was captured after it had been knocked out.

There is no road connection between the two areas, but the Japanese apparently are taking no chances on having the rich oil reservoirs captured by any surprise manoeuvre.

Big 3 Meeting
Time, Place Set
Says PresidentPrime Minister Not Yet Sure of Seat;
Lead Cut to 281

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Final reports from remote northern polls were awaited today in Prince Albert constituency, where the re-election of Prime Minister King was indicated election night on the basis of incomplete returns from the civilian vote.

Today with 187 of 182 polls reported, Mr. King had a majority of 281 over his C.C.F. opponent, E. L. Bowerman, a Shellbrook district farmer. Two other candidates, Sqn. Ldr. W. Nelson, Progressive Conservative, and J. N. Haldeman, Social Credit, were far behind.

With 15 polls unreported, Mr. King had polled 7,035 and Mr. Bowerman 6,754.

It will be some days before the total count is known. Some ballot boxes have to be brought in by canoe, down the North Saskatchewan River from fur trading centres. Others will be carried by airplane, coming from the far north mining districts.

C.C.F. officials refuse to concede Mr. King's election pending completion of the official ballot count. It was also recognized the soldier vote could change the result indicated by the civilian count.

D. M. Nelson in Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Donald M. Nelson will become president of the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers June 29.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman announced today that a Big Three meeting has been set, but he said he could not announce the time or place until his arrival there.

The President also told a news conference that he expected the meeting at Moscow this Friday to work out a unified Polish government on a broad base would produce results.

In obvious good-humor following an earlier conference with Harry Hopkins and Joseph E. Davies, his representatives to Moscow and London, the President told reporters the results they had obtained have been completely satisfactory and gratifying.

He said he would take State Secretary Edward R. Stettinius, James F. Byrnes, former War Mobilizer, Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Davies to the Big Three meeting with him, the latter two if their health permits.

Polish Settlement
Nears Completion

Discussing Tuesday night's announcement regarding the forthcoming meeting of British, U.S. and Russian representatives with three groups of Polish representatives, the President said he thought the Allies are on the way to a complete settlement of that issue.

He said that while no members of the present Polish government in London were invited to the meeting, the United States still recognizes the London Polish government.

He expressed some concern when reporters sought to pin him down on detail as to the position of the London Polish government.

The President reminded his questioners that Russia had done some very pleasant yielding on this and some other questions and that all should keep their heads.

Asked what would happen to the London Polish government if a unified Polish government is set up as a result of the Moscow conference, he said it would go out of existence since the meeting is to set up a new government in which all could participate.

Canada Abstains
From Polling Vote
Of Power of Veto

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—Defeat of an Australian amendment to forbid the use of a big power veto on steps by a world organization to settle disputes peacefully (limiting the veto to measures involving force) cleared the way today for approval of a United Nations Conference committee of the Big Five demand for total veto of proposed machinery for world security.

The Australian amendment was voted down 20-10, with 15 nations abstaining and five absent.

The nations lined up thus: For the amendment—Australia, Brazil, Colombia, Chile, Cuba, Iran, Mexico, The Netherlands, New Zealand and Panama.

Against the amendment—White Russia, China, Costa Rica, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Dominican Republic, France, Honduras, Lebanon, Liberia, Nicaragua, Norway, Philippines, Ukraine, South Africa, Russia, United Kingdom, United States, Uruguay and Yugoslavia.

Abstaining from a vote—Argentina, Belgium, Bolivia, Canada, Ethiopia, Greece, Guatemala, India, Iraq, Luxembourg, Peru, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Turkey and Venezuela.

Absentees—Ecuador, Egypt, El Salvador, Haiti and Paraguay.

Simultaneously a new issue appeared to be gaining headway. The small nations, whose split over the veto issue assured the big-power victory, were beginning to rally behind a proposal that they should be promised another crack at the veto about 10 years hence.

In other words, they are calling for the right to amend the charter in future without any of the big powers being able to exercise a veto over the amendments. The Big Five are dead set against this.

Asks Russians Lift
Blackout On News

LONDON (CP)—Education Minister Richard K. Law told the House of Commons today that Russia could foster good relations among the Allies by allowing British newspapermen in the countries she occupies.

A member had asked if the Foreign Office's attention had been drawn to the public anxiety over the news blackout from eastern and central European countries occupied by Russian forces. Mr. Law replied for Foreign Secretary Eden, who is ill.

Haw Haw in Britain

LONDON (Reuter)—The Evening News said today William Joyce (Lord Haw Haw), recently captured in Germany, has arrived in Britain. The paper added the notorious Nazi broadcaster would appear in Bow Street court next Monday for preliminary hearing.

LONDON (CP)—Joachim von Ribbentrop, former German foreign minister, is believed still at large and the British government has no information as to his whereabouts, an official announcement said today.

Victoria and Vicinity — Thursday: Moderate winds, occasionally fresh southwesterly in afternoon; fair and slightly warmer.

Violence in Levant Leaves District In State of Tension

By FRANK O'BRIEN

BEYROUTH (AP)—The
violence which broke out between French and Syrians and left behind it a high state of tension in the Levant did not begin as an isolated incident in international affairs and it won't end that way.

Bound up in the Levant crisis is the Arab world's attempt to regain mastery in its own home everywhere. The clash between French and British Middle East policies arises from different approaches to the problem of Arab independence.

The Levant states lie along the flank of the great Allied supply reinforcement line from Europe to the Oriental battlefields. Permanent disorders might harm
the Allied war effort in the Pacific.

When the League of Independent Arab States was formed in Cairo this spring, Lebanon and Syria were recognized by the other Arab states as independent and were given full membership.
They thereby became charter members of the organization, the avowed purpose of which is to shake off the controlling hands of foreigners everywhere from Iraq through the Levant, Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Tripolitania and North Africa.

The extent to which British and French policies clash in the Middle East is dependent on the difference in their approach to the new Arab state of mind. According to French interpretation, the treaty offered the Levant states to end the mandate would,
in the words of Gen. Beynet, French Delegate-General in the Levant, "be more liberal" than the British.

According to the Syrian and Lebanese interpretation, the treaty offered would be a mandate under a new form. The treaty terms, Gen. Beynet said, are much more moderate than what the Syrian and Lebanese say they were offered.

Both Levant states consider French treaty terms as incompatible with their independence and have refused to sign.

V.C. Posthumously Given Royal Marine

LONDON (CP)—The first Victoria Cross to be won by a member of the Royal Marines during this war was awarded posthumously
Tuesday to 21-year-old Cpl.
Thomas Peck Hunter of Portsmouth, who, the citation said,
"deliberately offered himself as a target" to save his commando troop.

It was the 146th award since the war began of the Empire's highest military decoration. Of these 10 have gone to Canadians.
During a night action in Italy
April 1 last, before the 8th
Army's final offensive, Hunter led his commandos to within quarter of a mile of a canal where the enemy was holding a group of houses.

"Realizing that as the country
was completely devoid of cover,
his troops would suffer heavy casualties as soon as the enemy opened fire, Cpl. Hunter seized a Bren gun and charged alone across 200 yards of open ground," the citation related.

Nine Spandaus opened fire and enemy mortars started shelling,
but Hunter, disregarding the fire and changing the Bren gun magazines as he ran, alone cleared the houses, capturing six Germans and routing the remainder.

When the troop became a target for other Spandaus on the canal bank, Hunter again offered himself as a target, lying in full view of the enemy while his men reached the safety of the houses.

The corporal finally was hit in the head and killed.

The commandos reached their objective.

Northern Ireland's Governor to Quit

BELFAST (CP)—The 76-year-old Duke of Abercorn was reported today to have decided to resign the governorship of Northern Ireland, which he has held for 23 years.

He was appointed governor
when the position was created after the Irish settlement. In 1931 the Duke was offered the post of Governor-General of Canada but declined.

Abandon Hope For 11 R.A.F. Men On Missing Liberator

VANCOUVER (CP)—Western Air Command announced all hope was gone of finding alive any of 11 R.A.F. fliers missing with a Liberator bomber in the mountains southeast of Chilliwack, about 85 miles southeast of Vancouver, and one of the greatest searches in Canada's history was being declined.

Although R.C.A.F. planes will continue to sweep the area in a regular pattern in an effort to find the wrecked Liberator, missing since June 1 when it failed to return from a routine operation, ground parties were recalled Tuesday.

Taking part in the search, in addition to the air force, were members of the Pacific Coast Militia Rangers, wardens of the game department, guides and civilian volunteers.

Wreckage reported seen from the air could not be found and it is believed this may have been some old mining buildings in the mountains.

Flares reportedly seen from a ridge of the rugged mountain district were not identified, but a search of the area from which they reportedly came revealed nothing.

Strawberry Pickers On Saanich Farms

The first bus load of fruit pickers left the city for Saanich peninsula early this morning as large-scale fruit picking in the lower Vancouver Island strawberry patches started.

W. C. Kersey said strawberry crops were fair and of good quality. The crop would be probably somewhat short, he said, as a season late in starting ends about the same time as one starting early.

Picking usually begins about
May 24 and ends at the beginning of July, he said, so that, altogether, about a week would be lost this year.

With good weather today, he predicted good picking this week although the acreage was somewhat small.

Most of the strawberries would be going directly to the retail stores as the price ceiling was too low to make it worth while for the fruit farmer to sell through the wholesaler, he said.

A lot of the berries would be sold right on the farm as people would drive out to the strawberry patches to make their purchases, he said. He believed most of the sales would be local and that few of the berries would go for processing. However, he added, it would be easier next week to get a better idea as to the quantity which would go for processing.

C. M. Smith, local manager of the Dominion Provincial Emergency Farm Labor Service, said the labor situation for the farms
here is satisfactory at present.
However, he added, strawberry patches would ripen quickly with a spell of hot weather, and if that were the case, a great deal more help would be necessary for the picking.

British Driving For Thailand Border

CALCUTTA (CP)—British 14th
Army troops, overcoming stiff enemy opposition including artillery fire, made further gains eastward from Toungoo Tuesday
as they battled Japanese forces withdrawing toward the Thailand frontier, Southeast Asia Command headquarters reported today.

To the southeast, British troops captured an enemy-held village near Tanbington, 28 miles northeast of Letpadan, which is north of Tharrawaddy.

Bombers attacked enemy troop concentrations six miles northwest of Bilin, 55 miles northwest of Moulmein. Results were difficult to determine, but several fires were reported.

Canadian 'Redskins' Of Uganda Second To New Zealand in Race

WITH THE BRITISH PACI-FIC FLEET—The Maoris of New Zealand and the Redskins of Canada showed the way when ships of the British Pacific Fleet held a war canoe race during a lull in operations recently.

Men from the New Zealand-manned cruiser H.M.S. Gambia placed first, and husky young Canucks from H.M.C.S. Uganda second in the race, which was witnessed by thousands of officers and men lining the decks of powerful carriers, battlewagons and other ships. Sixteen ships of the fleet were represented, making a clean-sweep for the New Zealand-Canada combination over their British cousins.

Many of the crews showed up at the starting line in full war
paint, headbands and regalia, complete with tom-toms to inspire the paddlers. Uganda arrived on the scene with a striking Totem Pole at the head of its boat, the work of Lieut. J. G.
Mills of Toronto. One of the stipulations of the race was that ships' whalers had to be used as "canoes."

At the start, Uganda took an early lead but owing to a misunderstanding about the course, crossed almost completely over from port to starboard, thus wasting much distance. Gambia's crew nosed her out by half a boat-length.

The distance was approximately two miles.

VICTORIANS' FORE AND AFT
Bowman in Canadian "canoe" was Lieut. Eric Makovsk of Victoria and coxswain, P.O. Stan Birch of Victoria. Almost every province in Canada was represented by other members of the crew.

Powerful ships of the British Pacific Fleet dipped their en-signs in salute as the body of Leading-Stoker-Caswell Ivan Phillips of Winnipeg, who had served in Uganda, was buried at sea with full naval honors.

Phillips, 21, is believed to be the first Canadian sailor to die in this theatre of war. He passed away suddenly after having been taken ill.

Shipmates mustered in spotless
tropical whites on the quarterdeck of Canada's new cruiser as the ceremony began. The body, draped in the white ensign, with the deceased's cap at its head,
was borne to the ship's side.
The lesson was read by the commanding officer, Capt. E. Rollo Mainguy, O.B.E., of Duncan, B.C.

Canadians Adrift For 10 Days After Freighter Sunk

MONTREAL (CP)—A group of survivors of the sinking of the Canadian freighter Point Pleasant Park in the final days of the European war today described how they drifted for 10 days in lifeboats. Nine of their shipmates were lost and a tenth,
Robert Monroe of Montreal, died in a lifeboat.

Their ship was torpedoed several hundred miles off Capetown
by a submarine which surfaced and finished off the Point Pleasant Park by shellfire. Survivors eventually landed on a deserted stretch of the South African coast. A signal fire later attracted a small South African patrolship.

"It was more than a hour after the torpedo hit before the ship
went down," said 18-year-old Evaré Arseneau of Montreal.
The submarine surfaced and the Germans were out on deck, but they didn't bother us at all as we took to the boats. They just circled and circled around the ship until they got disgusted when it didn't sink.

Then they opened fire on it.
We figured they must have pumped 24 shots into her hull
before she went down."

Vancouver Continues Gas Sales Hours

VANCOUVER (CP)—This
city's by-law providing for closing of gasoline stations and garages from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m.
was passed by the council and will become effective June 25.
It replaces the wartime regulation which set the same hours of operation but which was recinded.

The civic ordinance provides the 7 - to - 7 regulation does not apply to garages having a stor-

Support of Independents To Give King Commons Working Majority

OTTAWA (CP) — Political circles noted today that support from Independents and Independent Liberals can give Canada's Liberal government a working majority in the next Parliament if the service vote, expected to be announced June 20, makes no substantial change in the present party standing.

On the basis of the civilian vote from Monday's general election, Prime Minister King's administration now holds 118 votes against 66 for the Progressive Conservative official opposition and 26 for the C.C.F.

The government may be able to depend on support from eight Independent Liberal members and three Independents elected in Quebec—B. Arsenault, Bonaventure, who already has announced he will back the government; Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, former Public Works Minister, and Hon. C. G. Power, former Air Minister.

Both Mr. Cardin and Major Power broke with the government in the last Parliament on the conscription issue but supported the government on other questions and it is expected they will continue to vote with the government during the new session.

MAY HOLD 129 SEATS

This support would give the Liberal administration command of a sufficient majority of 129 seats in the 245-member chamber.

It is not known whether the government will obtain backing from four other Independents in Quebec. Two of these, Liguori Lacombe, Laval-Two Mountains, and Frederic Dorion, Charlevoix-Saguenay, sat as members of the Independent Group in the last House and usually voted against the government.

The Progressive Conservative strength of 66 is expected to be supplemented by one Independent Progressive Conservative, while the C.C.F. probably will have the support of an Independent C.C.F. member. The C.C.F., in addition, has a candidate leading in the single seat still in doubt—North Battleford riding in Saskatchewan.

However, the government's margin, as well as some of the strength of the opposition parties, will remain in doubt until the service vote, in which some 750,000 men and women in the services were eligible to cast ballots, is made public.

CABINET MEET SOON

Meantime, a full-dress meeting of the cabinet was expected to be held shortly to discuss the government's position and to talk over plans for the first session of the 20th Parliament, expected to meet late in August or early in September.

Cabinet changes also are expected to develop shortly to fill

The INTERNATIONAL

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

Japanese propagandists have been threatening their people with an imminent invasion although they knew that the U.S. forces are not yet set for climactic action.

They intend to use the next few months to prepare in every way which bomber attacks will permit. They make much of forming a civilian defence army (like Germany's, which only got in the way of regular troops when the showdown came.) But they say nothing of the two or three classes of men in reserve and in war plants that now face active duty.

With the end of the Okinawa campaign and the arrival of the monsoon in southeast Asia, we probably are entering a period of great preparation rather than great deeds.

Knowing the Japanese will be unable to see the massing of Allied millions about them, the enemy propagandists are trying to make it appear that the 10th Army will stride directly from the smoking battlefields of Okinawa to the main islands.

Failure to do so will be portrayed as a great victory for the Japanese navy and air force; the people will be too frightened to grumble over a ration situation which obviously is becoming serious; politicians will rest more securely in their jobs (although after Okinawa's fall it is likely this will apply more to Suzuki's successor); and some progress will be made on a Japanese "volkssturm" which won't be armed entirely with sharpened bamboo.

And behind the scenes, without benefit of propaganda, real armies and real defenses will be so strengthened that the mere thought of them will cause grim lines along the jaws of our own commanders.

Victorian Leading Flight of Bombers

YORKSHIRE, Eng. (CP)—Aircraft from the R.C.A.F. Snowy Owl and Bluenose squadrons took off Tuesday from a base in Yorkshire on the first leg of a flight to Canada, with stops at the Azores and Newfoundland, and finally Nova Scotia.

Ground crews attached to the squadrons pulled out on trains bound for ships which will take them home.

Thirty aircraft left the field and almost 1,000 men boarded trains in a busy farewell day. Three more squadrons are scheduled to leave this week along with some 2,000 aircrew.

Leading one flight of home-bound aircraft was Sqdn. Ldr. J. Hudson, D.F.C., of Victoria, skipper of the Bluenose Squadron. Other skippers were Sqdn. Ldr. J. Archibald of St. Brieux, Sask., Flt. Lt. W. H. Earl,

D.F.C., of Belcarres, Sask., and Flt. Lt. D. A. Milloy of Keremeos, B.C.

The first aircraft to leave was piloted by Flt. Lt. D. J. McIntyre, Ladner, B.C., and was followed closely by Flt. Lt. M. W. Davidson, Winnipeg.

Nazis Laid Mines Off St. John's, Victorians In Heroic Sweeping

OTTAWA (CP)—German mine-laying submarines attempted to close off the important port of St. John's, Nfld., late in 1943, but "several dozen" enemy mines were swept up over a wide area by Canadian and British ships with the loss of only two merchant vessels, the navy disclosed today.

The announcement, withheld until now for security reasons, said one of the sunken ships went down in 40 minutes but all 39 members of the crew were rescued. The other, carrying ore, sank in 30 seconds, with a loss of 27 lives out of a crew of 41.

WORK ALL DAY

Minesweepers worked from daylight to dusk for several weeks to complete clearance operations, holding nightly conferences after their sea job was done for the day, and every one of the enemy mines was accounted for.

Canadian-built Bangor minesweepers taking part in the operation, with their commanding officers, included: H.M.C.S. Canoe, Lieut. John Kincaid, Victoria; H.M.C.S. Caravelle, Cmdr. A. H. G. Storr, Victoria; H.M.C.S. Sarnia, Lt. Cmdr. R. C. Cheno, Montreal; H.M.C.S. Stratford, Lieut. Donald W. G. Storey, Moncton, N.B.; H.M.C.S. Lockeport, Lt. Cmdr. Raiffe M. Wallace, Saskatoon and Regina; H.M.C.S. Medicine Hat, Lieut. J. E. Heward, Westmount; Que.; H.M.C.S. Grandmere, Lt. Cmdr. J. Cuthbert, Vancouver; H.M.C.S. Vegreville, Lt. Cmdr. T. B. Edwards, Cornwall, Eng. and H.M.C.S. Burlington, Lieut. M. Russell, Halifax.

Convoy Goes Through Soon After Mines Laid

The following story of the sweeping of German mines from Newfoundland waters was written late in 1943 but was withheld by naval authorities for security reasons. It now has been released.

Written for the Canadian Press

By JOHN LEEBLANC
HALIFAX—Little escort craft of the Royal Canadian Navy guided a convoy through the first

German minefield ever laid outside St. John's, Nfld., running through on schedule just a few hours after the mines had been discovered.

That was in the fall of 1943, just after German mine-laying submarines had sowed the mines. I was aboard H.M.C.S. Wasaga as that jaunty Bangor craft, gallily thumbing her nose at the hidden explosive, raced twice, through the field before it had been swept up and then sedately followed a minesweeper through for her third run while mines dislodged by other sweepers detonated all around her.

SIX EXPLOSIONS SEEN

The convoy of freighters and its escort, first to go through the field, ran the gantlet of destruction without a scratch. And—until we were out of sight, at least—there were no casualties among the courageous sweepers, though from the Wasaga we were able to count six huge explosions as their trailing gear touched off the globes of TNT. The field was put down by Nazi mine-laying submarines, in the same way a similar field had been laid outside Halifax a few months before.

The mines must have been huge ones, for officers on the Wasaga estimated they were throwing up water columns that towered a full 300 feet. "Those things make our depth charges look like a pebble thrown into a puddle," one officer grinned. But there was an air of non-chalance about the ship as she ran through the danger area that was reassuring to a landsman coming up against a minefield for the first time. Many of the men off watch just packed in for some sleep as the Wasaga hit the field.

LIFEBELT AND HARP

First Lieut. Bill Hoggett of Regina summed up the matter most succinctly when this reporter with what he considered commendable foresight, was trying to figure out the workings of his lifebelt.

"I wouldn't worry about that," the officer advised cheerfully. "If we bump into one of those, all you'll need is a harp."

If boys could adjust themselves to the horror and terror of war, they can adjust themselves to the old peaceful civilian life without much strain.

They're Certainly DIFFERENT

These new suits with their three-quarter length coats, contrasting lining and tuxedo fronts and skirts in harmonizing shades are definitely new and very distinctive. Youth - WILL BE SERVED

Our country is rich in natural resources—yet, it is the young men and women that will determine the economic well-being of our country. For it is the young men who will create and sell the plans to industry's boards of directors that will convert our country's natural resources into useable wealth.

Youth has enthusiasm and initiative to spare. Given opportunity youth will provide security for itself.

Realizing this from 90 years' experience, this Bank believes that youth must be given opportunity. To this cause, we pledge our belief in free competitive enterprise. Protect this freedom, NOT for ourselves—but for youth, that tomorrow our way of life may be improved and made free from want. Youth will be served.

NEW PROPAGANDA TACK

JAPAN'S DOMEI NEWS AGENCY HAS
broadcast an article from a Tokyo newspaper which calls upon the Japanese people to emulate the unity of the Russian people behind Marshal Stalin's leadership in order to defeat the "Anglo-American capitalist aggression." It also says, with apparent frankness, that "the crisis now confronting Japan seems hopelessly serious," and that it is impossible "to repulse the enemy outside Japan
if there is no perfect unity within Japan."

It would be well to digest this confession of Japan's troubles with a heavy seasoning of salt. No one doubts that the enemy's position is "hopelessly serious." But the Tokyo paper's doleful sentiments are almost too candid to be swallowed whole. It is more reasonable to assume that the article is a not-so-subtle attempt to relax the full force of the Allied drive against Japan and to flatter Russia in the hope of keeping her out of the war.

Certainly, this invocation of Russia's example, while reasonable, is an abrupt tack
from the usual course of Japanese propaganda with its heavy accent on intense nationalism and racial superiority. By using the word "capitalist" in the statement about Anglo-American aggression, the article's author seems to be making a naive bid for Russian friendship by harking back to a favorite communistic catch-phrase in the days of the Russo-German nonaggression pact. It is natural that the Japs should recall the splendid defenses of Moscow and Stalingrad to gain what comfort and inspiration they can in their growing crisis. But it is no slur on the Russians' exemplary courage and unity to say that these qualities alone did not bring Russian victory. Unfortunately for the Japs, they have no allies to supplement their curtailed industrial production, to open a distant, diversionary campaign, to bomb
their enemy's factories and transportation and personnel, heavily and repeatedly.

Russia, while justly proud of the skill of her commanders and of her soldiers' magnificent fighting spirit, has not hesitated to give Britain and the United States the credit they deserve in helping the Red Army to turn back the enemy from her gates. The intelligent Japanese surely can see that their position today is not comparable to the Russian position in the winter of 1942-43. Their islands are not the vast expanse of the Soviet Union. Their major raw materials must be sea-borne, and the waters that they control
are rapidly receding toward the home islands' shores.

Russia's decision to enter or stay out of the Pacific war surely will not be affected by Japan's unctuous flattery. And whatever that decision, the Japanese government knows that it faces nothing but total capitulation, with or without total destruction.

RICH PRIZES

AUSTRALIAN TROOPS, WHO HAVE A personal score to settle with the Japanese, have executed another major stroke
in the Pacific war with their successful exploitation of the British Borneo landings.
In addition to displaying once again their efficiency in the type of warfare needed to turn back the Nipponese, they are, according to today's dispatches, moving toward vital oil fields. Those fuel sources, which experts agree can be restored to early production despite any destruction the enemy may effect before they are taken, will be of immense importance in providing the bloodstream of attack on the Mikado's shrinking holdings.

The results of the drive have apparent advantages of immeasurable value. The acquisition of Brunel Bay provides anchorage for fleet units—excellent accommodation of San Francisco Bay—while the capture of adjacent airfields and territory should aid materially in making air cover available for those ships which move in. Further, the nature of the oil from fields which lie ahead of the Australians is such that it can be speedily used for fuel.

These are rich prizes for the attackers and probably no force more capable of securing the advantages they offer could have been chosen than those highly-skilled Australians, who have already distinguished themselves in jungle island warfare.

VOTES AND SEATS

ONE OF THE INTERESTING REVELAtions of Monday's civilian vote at the general election is the fact that although the Progressive Conservatives had polled, up till yesterday afternoon, 289,104 votes
less than they did in 1940, they had increased their number of seats in Parliament from 39 to 62.

We shall hear nothing about this extraordinary condition from the opposition press
—it complains only when a similar state of affairs applies to the Liberal Party—but it is a fact that will not down. Nor need this apparent phenomenon create misgivings.
Many contests in Canada and Great Britain have been won by candidates on what is known as a minority vote; and under the electoral system prevailing in both countries

this is a condition for which there seems to be no adequate or equitable remedy. Advocates of Proportional Representation will argue that their procedure is the only effective cure. With all its imperfections, however, the present method works no serious hardships, and is not likely to so long as we accept the rule that the one who gets the most votes is entitled to the seat.

And the verdict of the people of Canada
under this procedure is much more representative than the arbitrary dictate of the United States constitution, for example, which permits two elected Senators from a state with a population of 250,000 to exert the same influence in the Upper Chamber at Washington as two from a state with 13,000,000. Wyoming and New York are the states we have in mind.

WALTER TURNBULL

TO MANY CANADIANS IT IS CONCEIVable that the announcement on Monday that Mr. Mackenzie King had appointed Mr.
Walter J. Turnbull to the position of Deputy Postmaster-General may have meant little or nothing. On rare occasions, such as when the Prime Minister has visited Mr. Churchill or the late President Roosevelt, a line of type has been sufficient to record the fact that "he was accompanied by his private secretary, W. J. Turnbull."

Members of Parliament of every political shade at Ottawa, to say nothing of Senators and departmental heads, have had excellent reasons for knowing the newly-appointed Deputy Postmaster-General—knowing him for his wealth of knowledge of our parliamentary system and, above all, for the many sterling qualities which he combines with a priceless capacity for making friends and keeping them. Those of us of the press who have been permitted to know Mr. Turnbull for many years, and particularly our association with him at the San Francisco Conference, find it difficult to understand how the Prime Minister brought himself to the point of letting him go.

One may be sure, however, that Mr.
Turnbull will take to his new position that same studious understanding of responsibility and loyalty which has marked his success as the intimate confidante of the Prime Minister. His many friends in and out of Parliament will wish him well in a department with which the illustrious name of Mulock has long been associated.

AN ECONOMIC PROBLEM

POLITICAL FORMS VERSUS ECONOMIC
forces are the governing factors in the harmonizing of European problems. The trading principles enunciated by the Social and Security Council at San Francisco and the monetary principles of Bretton Woods proposals have to be the principal guide to the practice of politics in the days that are to come. The main problem is to exchange goods and services between the nations and keep each nation's cumulative trade in balance. German industry, which was concentrated on war, has been totally destroyed, leaving a tremendous vacuum in the turnover from war to peace and in the ability to restore such heavy industry as can be utilized either for war or peace, such as any shipbuilding or electrical plant.

From the political point of view practically everything at the moment is concentrated on the future government of Germany, and the Russians have drawn up their plans.
They propose to set the Labor Unions going again, merely adding the proviso that nothing is to be final until it is approved by the Soviet occupation authorities. Matters are not so simple for the British, American and French zones. The Labor Unions in Britain, for instance, are certain to have a good deal to say with regard to co-operating with the Labor Unions in Germany. They recognize that certain industries must be reorganized in Germany in order to provide exchange for British goods and services. But anybody who even mentions heavy industry for Germany today becomes instantly unpopular—especially in the political realm.

But within a few years the zones of occupation will have to be integrated com-mercially. Germany will not be starved to death, as to do so would injure the Allies. Eighty million customers within the German commercial zone in Europe must eventually exchange goods and services with a similar number in France, Britain, Russia and the United States. That is the basic problem.
They must be kept disarmed, but they will have to be kept busy. It is an economic question, not a political one.

UNCANNILY ACCURATE

FROM TIME TO TIME IN RECENT YEARS
certain newspapers in Canada which do not use the material supplied by the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion have complained bitterly about the practice in which that organization continues to excel itself.
Just before the recent Ontario general election a fresh outburst occurred in some Conservative editorial columns because the poll showed Mr. Mackenzie King's party in the federal field doing very nicely indeed;
it gave the Liberals a comfortable margin in the percentage of the votes they were likely to collect in the polling this week.
The forecast for the three major parties stood this way: Liberals, 39 per cent; Progressive Conservatives, 28 per cent; C.C.F., 17 per cent. The actual result showed the first computation correct, the second 1 per cent too low and the third 2 per cent too low.
Considering the nature of the campaign just closed, especially its almost unpredictable characteristics, the margin of error was commendably small. It goes to show how justified the newspapers supporting the two oppositionists were in their fears for Monday's Liberal trend.

But why try to take it out on the efforts of a perfectly legitimate and objective system of sampling the opinion of the public in respect of what is, after all, its most important business?

Walter Lippmann

AN HISTORIC STATE PAPER

THE REPORT WHICH Mr. Justice Jackson has just made is much more than an account of how this country proposes to deal with the men, accused of war crimes, who are in our hands. Having been approved by the President, the report is a declaration of national policy, nobly and largely conceived, powerfully and persuasively, reasoned. This historic state paper will, if it is acted upon efficiently and resolutely, contribute greatly to making real and convincing the world organization which is being founded at San Francisco.

Mr. Justice Jackson is chief of counsel for the United States in prosecuting the principal Axis war criminals—that is to say the men who designed and directed "the Nazis master plan" of conquest, exploitation, oppression, and enslavement. They are to be judged for having done what the war was fought to stop them from doing and what the world organization is being created to prevent any one from attempting to do again.

The historic importance of the Jackson report lies in its insistence that the Nazi purposes and actions were crimes when they were planned, and that they were crimes when the United Nations resisted them. Thus in the American doctrine, which we have every reason to think is also that of our Allies, the world organization is not establishing a new principle of international conduct; it is not making it an offence for the future to do what Hitler did in the past.
What Hitler did was already an international crime when he did it. The purpose of the world organization is to prevent in the future the crimes which the international military tribunal will deal with right now.

THE JACKSON report confronts squarely the moral and legal issues which the declaration of this policy raises. There is a doctrine, favored by some international lawyers which holds that the head of a sovereign state is not personally accountable for an international crime. There is also a doctrine, which practically all the Germans
we have arrested are invoking, that no official has committed a crime, no matter what he did, if he acted on an order from an official superior.

Mr. Justice Jackson challenges those two doctrines, which would give all the Nazis immunity and tell us that the international military tribunal will permit none of the accused to defend themselves on these grounds. There will be no debates with Goering's counsel about whether it was legal for Germany as a sovereign state to wage war. We shall prove with factual evidence that Germany's war was aggressive and that for that reason Goering, as a high responsible German official, was guilty of an international crime.

Though the view that aggressive war is a crime is disputed by some international lawyers, Mr. Justice Jackson's argument is a weighty one. Germany, Italy, and Japan were signatories of the Briand-Kellogg Pact of 1928; in that pact they renounced war as an instrument of national policy. "Unless this pact," says the Jackson report, "altered the legal status of wars of aggression, it has no meaning at all and comes close to being an act of deception."

HE THEN QUOTES Mr. Stimson who,
when he was Secretary of State in 1932, gave the official American interpretation of this pact. As an instrument of national policy "war . . . has become illegal throughout practically the entire world. It is no longer to be the source and subject of rights.
It is an illegal thing . . . by that very act we have made obsolete many legal precedents and have given the legal profession
the task of re-examining many of its codes and treaties."

Mr. Justice Jackson goes on to show that the Kellogg-Briand Pact was not something exceptional. It was one of a whole series of solemn international agreements declaring that a war of aggression is an international crime. The Geneva Protocol of 1924 was adopted by 48 governments. In 1927 the Eighth Assembly of the League of Nations by unanimous resolution, which included Germany, declared that aggressive war was an international crime. The 21
American republics at the Pan-American Conference of 1928 adopted unanimously
a resolution stating that "war of aggression constitutes an international crime against the human species."

IF WE CAN PROVE that Germany's war was aggressive and there is no doubt that we can—on what ground can a top Nazi claim that he should not be condemned for the crime of committing aggressive war?
Not on the ground that aggressive war was not recognized as an international crime: Germany herself recognized it as being an international crime.

He can perhaps argue that since no specific penalty was ever set for this crime, he cannot be punished for it. That might be an interesting defence if in committing the crime of aggressive war, the Nazis had not also committed and prompted a whole catalogue of other crimes which, as Mr. Justice Jackson puts it, "have been regarded as criminal since the time of Cain and have been so written in every civilized code." For these crimes which are inseparable from the whole Nazi criminal conspiracy, there is under the laws of war ample legal ground to hang the top Nazis several times over.
The top Nazis are like criminals who have committed not one crime but many; if a man has committed murder, robbery, rape and arson, he may be judged guilty of all of them. Which particular crime he is charged for is a legalistic problem, not a problem of justice.

If He cares to note the sparrow's fall, why ask for more? Would you ask for a miracle to save it?

Letters To The Editor

THANKS ALL ROUND

Owing to an overcrowded agenda I was unable last evening at the enthusiastic meeting at McDonald Hall to pay tribute to the workers and supporters of Sir Henry Drayton in this campaign. Whatever the final results may be, I wish publicly to acknowledge the efficiency of the workers in this campaign, and particularly to the men and women in the various committee rooms and polling booths
throughout the constituency,
many of them spending long hours in uncomfortable quarters and their contribution to the campaign was beyond all praise. I also wish to thank the Times for its fairness throughout the campaign.

COLWOOD BURIAL PARK

Articles having appeared in the two local papers recently dealing with veterans' graves, in which reference was made to the Colwood Burial Park, the owners desire to reply that the information supplied therein is absolutely false in every particular.

In the first place, it was stated
there were "2,000 veterans buried at Colwood," whereas the fact is only 200 veterans have been buried there. Further, a very generous offer was submitted with regard to a plot of ground for returned soldiers. This was rejected without comment.

The care of graves is the responsibility of the owners or their representatives.
We request this correction of erroneous reports.

Hundreds Attend Annual Corpus Christi Procession

Thanksgiving for the victory over Nazism, enduring peace in the great family of nations and conversion of Oriental dissidents were the special intentions for the annual Corpus Christi procession held in the vicinity of St. Ann's Academy, Sunday, and attended by hundreds of Catholics throughout Victoria.

Members of St. Andrew's Cathedral parish, Our Lady of Lourdes, Willows, Queen of Peace, Esquimalt and Sacred Heart parish, Lakehill, participated in the procession which formed in front of the main entrance of the academy and proceeded by way of Humboldt, Vancouver and Fairfield Streets to the steps of the Nurses' Home, where the final benediction was given.

The Blessed Sacrament was carried by the newly-ordained

Father Donal Lehan and the outdoor sermon was delivered by Father T. Mangan of Lakehill. Rev. G. Penfold was grand marshal, assisted by Brothers Daly and Phillips.

In addition to representatives from the various local religious orders and all branches of the Catholic societies, the procession included representatives from the army, navy and air force, a group of nurses and groups from the Chinese and Indian Missions.

The sisters' and girls' choirs provided music for the benediction services and fourth degree Knights of Columbus acted as guard of honor. Carried in the procession were special eucharistic banners which had the divine praises lettered on both sides.

At the elevation of the final benediction a bugler from the armed forces sounded a salute to Christ the King, and the guard of honor presented arms.

Stick By System Of Living--Beskin

"Stick by your system of living, stick by your flag," said Dr. Nathan C. Beskin, converted Jewish rabbi, in his address "Stalin and Russia" before a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel Tuesday.

Introduced by Don Smith, chairman of the religious work committee, the speaker said Russia was making strides in improving living standards, but added she had abandoned communism and was trying to achieve what the democracies already had.

He said that in the United States "labor leaders" kick like fury "at the Bedeaux system" under which "the idea is that a man becomes a slave." It is the old-fashioned Russian Stachanowitch system," said Dr. Beskin.

Speaking of Joseph Stalin, with whom the speaker attended the University of Tiflis, Dr. Beskin said "his name 'the heartless one' is very appropriate," and added that he would never break his word.

Russia was by far more class conscious than the United States of America, the doctor said. The highest skilled manual worker got three times as much as a common laborer in the United States. In Russia the trained skilled laborer would get ten times as much as the common laborer, he said.

At Marshal Zuhov's recent meeting with Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower said Dr. Beskin, "it is estimated that Zuhov wore medals worth $1,000,000."

Dr. A. E. Whitehouse, pastor of Metropolitan United Church, said grace; Tom Scott, sergeant-at-arms, introduced visiting Kiwanis members, and Daryl Spence reported on the inter-club visit to Vancouver by 27 club members last Thursday. Frank Paulding, president, was in the chair.

Presidential Election Tomorrow in Eire

DUBLIN (CP)—The first presidential election in Eire's history will take place tomorrow; efforts to obtain an agreed candidate for the new nominal leadership having failed.

Three men seek the office left vacant by resignation of Dr. Douglas Hyde, who held the office seven years after being selected by leaders of the parliamentary parties, without opposition, under the 1937 constitution.

In the running are: Sean O'Kelly, deputy prime minister, 63-year-old son of a Dublin shoemaker; Gen. Sean MacEoin, 51, nominee of the Fine Gael, chief opposition party in the Dail; Dr. Patrick McCartan, an independent, supported by farmer and labor members of the Dail.

Concerning prophecy: Some military men said invasion of Germany would cost the U.S. 500,000 casualties, and others hooped. The final official figure was 512,113.

Co-Ed Council Plans Week-End Outing

Plans for spending the week-end of June 30 to July 2 at Camp Thunderbird, Lake Gilin, near Sooke, have been made by the Y.M.C.A. Co-Ed Council.

VICTORIA DAILY TIMES: Wednesday, June 13, 1945

Composed of representatives from each of the Y.M.C.A. groups for the purpose of co-ordinating the programs of all young people's groups in the "Y", the council heard a report that a rowboat had been bought for the

I.O.D.E. Members At Regent's Funeral

A guard of honor, composed of members of Florence Nightingale Chapter, was in attendance at the funeral service for their regent, Mrs. Maud A. Baylis, held Tuesday at Sands Mortuary. Representatives from all Victoria chapters of I.O.D.E. were present.

Rev. A.E. Whitehouse officiated at the service, which was followed by cremation. The hymn sung was "Peace, Perfect Peace," and Mrs. R. H. Nash sang the solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Pallbearers were C. A. Griffiths, R. W. Watson, J. N. Hedley, Fred A. Willis, J. S. Hall and J. O'Connor.

Florence Nightingale Chapter and Municipal Chapter standards were placed beside the casket and there was a profusion of floral tributes. After the service the many beautiful flowers were sent to Royal Oak Burial Park where they were placed on the graves of Allied airmen.

Mrs. Baylis was also a member of the executive, Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., president of the Greater Victoria Lawn Bowling Association, past president of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club and past president of the Hollywood Ladies' Aid.

Alumnae Anniversary To Be Celebrated

This year marks the 25th anniversary of the Jubilee Nurses' Alumnae, and the outstanding social event will be the silver anniversary reunion dinner in the Empress Hotel ballroom Friday at 7.30.

Special guests will be Mayor and Mrs. Percy George, Dr. W. Walker, superintendent of the hospital, and Mrs. Walker; L. S. V. York, auditor of the association, and Mrs. York; Mrs. M. W. Thomas, first president of the association, and Mrs. W. H. Bullock-Webster, first graduate of the hospital.

A number of members will be present from Vancouver, Seattle, Yakima and up-island, and Mrs. Marguerite Rush will assist in entertaining the guests. Invitations have been extended to all graduates of the hospital, who may make reservations by phoning the convener, Mrs. G. Duncan, E 2163.

It was chiefly owing to the efforts of Miss Jessie F. Mackenzie, director of nurses, that the Alumnae Association was formed in 1920 with a membership of 20 graduates. Carrying on the tradition of its Alma Mater, the association, which now has a membership of 231, has been of considerable assistance both to the institution and to its members.

GIRLS HAVE AS MUCH RIGHT TO PICK MATE AS MAN HAS

A group of young men ask me if I approve of girls doing the proposing in marriage. Yes, I do. It has always seemed to me that the greatest hardship under which the feminine sex labored was the inability to have anything but the veto power in deciding the most important problem of their lives.

There is neither reason nor justice in men having a monopoly of the privilege of picking out their mates, and nothing would do more to abate divorce and promote conjugal felicity than for this ancient taboo against women popping the question to be scrapped. In the first place, women would be better choosers than men, just as they are better shoppers. They wouldn't marry for a pretty face, as men so often do. They would consider what was inside of a man's head as well as what was outside it, and whether he would be likely to make an interesting companion for the next 30 or 40 years, or bore them to tears.

Also, it would make for happier marriages for women to be able to select their mates, because it would, at least, give them a chance to get the men they want instead of having to take the ones they can get. This would be a two-fold blessing—that would be found to the well-being of the man as well as the woman, for the wife who has gotten her heart's desire in a husband is always happy and contented and on her tip-toes to please him. Almost invariably the peevish, fretful, nagging wife is one who married her opportunity instead of her preference.

Of course, you may say that most women see their husbands before they know about how it came about that they are Mrs. Smith or Mrs. Jones than Mr. Smith or Mr. Jones will ever know. But, even so, they have to work under cover, and that cramps their style. They can't come out frankly and above-board and sell themselves to the man they want, as a man does to a girl when he goes a-courting. If they could, there would be fewer unhappy marriages, because many a man misses getting a domestic treasure just because she couldn't call herself to his attention.

The rich girl can't offer to share her wealth with the poor boy she loves. The old maid can't tell the widower with a houseful of children how she longs to mother his motherless brood. The good cook can't say, "John, if you will marry me, I will feed you on angel's food to the balance of your life." So a lot of lives are messed up by a foolish convention that makes a woman have to sit around and suck her thumb, waiting for some man to happen to notice her—or by-pass her.

So the argument, as I see it, is all in favor of equal rights, so far as marriage proposals go. At any rate, we will soon see how the theory works out in real life, for in these war times, with a husband shortage looming on the horizon, girls are not waiting to be asked. They are popping the question themselves and hustling the bridegroom to the altar. Hence the boom in the matrimonial market.

Why men so long have been allergic to women taking the initiative in courtship is hard to understand, for, after all, being made love to and told how handsome and fascinating you are is a pleasing experience. And, of course, a boy doesn't have to say yes unless he wants to. He can always tell a girl he will be a brother to her.

Bran in this Form tastes Delicious

You need these extra food benefits, too!

YES, you get the bulk you need in a truly delicious way in Post's Bran Flakes... natural bulk in the form of bran—PLUS other food benefits not found in every bran cereal!

Post's Bran Flakes contain just enough bran to be mildly laxative. They help prevent the dull, lousy feeling that comes from a sluggish system.

They contain other parts of wheat, too. So in this bran cereal you also get wheat nourishment—protein and carbohydrates as well as iron and phosphorus. It's both healthful and nourishing and its crisp, nut-like flavor is excitingly different.

Serve Post's Bran Flakes with milk or fruit for a family breakfast treat. Or try it in light, tender bran muffins. Sugarless recipe on both Regular and Giant Economy packages. Equally effective either way and equally delicious.

West Close Great Season With Banquet

Victoria's West soccer players, present and past, along with supporters and guests, gathered in Perry's private dining room Tuesday night for the annual club banquet. "Pop" Jenkins, president of the Wests, acted as chairman.

With around 75 present the gathering was a fitting wind up to one of the most successful seasons in the history of the greenshirts. Resuming competition after an absence of two seasons, the Wests surprised the provincial soccer world by gaining the final of the Province Cup, losing to North Shore in the deciding match. In addition the Wests won the city championship, Price Cup and a half interest in the Phoenix Cup along with the V.M.C. In 24 matches the wearers of the green won 16, drew three and lost five.

Frank Shandley, goalkeeper for the Wests from 1912 to 1921, proposed the toast to the team with manager Bobby Bell replying and offering a toast to "The Old Wests." Toast to the league was proposed by Percy Wilson with president Charlie Lewis replying.

Other speakers during the evening were Pat Mulcahy, local commissioner, Dr. A. Poyntz, Pete Sallaway, Sam Winterbottom, Jack Youison, Tommy Restell, Johnny Peden, "Pop" Clarkson, Charlie Irish and Jack McColl.

Winterbottom led the gathering in sing-song with Jim Oakman, Fred Wright, Frank Tupman, J. A. Buckler and A. Palmer contributing songs.

Disability Officer To Be Appointed

When construction of the new veterans hospital in Victoria is completed, a casualty rehabilitation officer will be appointed to advise disabled men confined there, Major Stan Okell, rehabilitation officer, has announced.

Functions of the new officer and his staff will rest on placement of all disabilities in industry or business and with this in view, courses will be held soon at Ottawa to train men for the job.

National Selective Service office will have a representative in the rehabilitation office shortly, said Maj. Okell, to advise on employment trends as job guide training. This will make for closer, more co-ordinated working of the two departments, as local selective service officers have special veterans officers already working there.

In up-land centres, where appointments are yet to be made, representatives will also take applications for benefits under the rehabilitation program which will be forwarded to headquarters here for action. An appointment has already been made at Nanaimo.

May Abandon Repairs

It is likely that attempts to repair the badly-damaged Otter trawler P.Z. Caverhill will be abandoned, according to Harry Barnett, marine underwriter. The vessel is regarded as a total loss.

Last Thursday 20 feet of the vessel's stern was sheared off by a 20,000-ton U.S. freighter in the Strait of Juan de Fuca. Towed to Victoria, a temporary bulkhead was installed and in that condition the damaged vessel was taken to Point Hope shipyard where she now lies on the slipway.

A Canadian Pacific officer in Montreal in the early years of the war, Mr. Howard drew from years of active and administrative experience in communications to help devise and set up the system which provided a ceaseless watch over the rough Atlantic coastline from the U.S. border to the far north.

Educator Praises Diplomatic Corps

Tribute to members of Canada's diplomatic corps was paid by Albert Sullivan, retired provincial inspector of high schools, in an address before the Credit Granters' Association at luncheon in Spencer's dining room Tuesday.

Mr. Sullivan said the ablest diplomatic corps in Washington was considered to be Canadian, composed of a staff with considerable business acumen.

Referring briefly to Vincent Massey, high commissioner, London, and T. C. Davis, high commissioner to Australia, he dealt particularly with Lester B. Pearson, ambassador to the United States, Gen. Victor N. Odlum, ambassador to China; Dana Wilgress, ambassador to Russia, and Warwick Chipman, ambassador to Chile, whom, he said, were not only trained business men, but also university graduates.

Mr. Sullivan spoke of opportunities in trade with Russia, China and the United States.

R. M. Lochhead, chairman of the credit education committee, in his report on lectures delivered in Greater Victoria high schools, said that the committee was making a survey with a view to holding credit classes for Victoria merchants in the autumn.

Credit Granters' Association of Canada will hold its annual meeting in Winnipeg September 10, Secretary H. B. Dawson reported.

To Determine Costs Of Fixing Willows

A survey will be made of the Willows exhibition grounds immediately to determine what new buildings will be needed, and what repairs and renovation are necessary to clean up the grounds and have them ready for exhibitions, Ald. Ed Williams, chairman of the city's representatives on the B.C. Agricultural Association, said today.

He was one of three aldermen who proposed selling the Willows property at the last council meeting and using the funds obtained for the beautification of Victoria's waterfront.

He said that he could give no guess as to how much money would be required to put the grounds back in shape and repair the damage of the fire just over a year ago, but he is definitely in favor of cleaning the grounds up as soon as possible.

Senator Blais To Speak at Banquet

A St. John the Baptist banquet in observance of the French-Canadian national holiday June 24, will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 1.30 in the afternoon, with Senator A. Blais of Quebec as guest speaker. The dinner, at which Rt. Rev. John C. Cody, Bishop of Victoria, will preside will be preceded by a special mass to be sung at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

A recital will be given during the afternoon under direction of Mme. A. Labonte of Port Alberni and in the evening Miss Isabella Burnada, contralto of Vancouver, will be heard. An all-French film "Le Pere Chopin," will be shown in the evening.

French-Canadian groups in Vancouver, Port Alberni, Nanaimo, Millardville and Duncan will celebrate the national feast.

Germans have to date offered the Russians six bodies of Hitler. That's nothing. People will be finding live Hitlers for the next 20 years.

So he can live Tomorrow!

SHATTERED NERVES... MAIMED BODIES...
VI-V2 BOMBS... MAKE THIS NEED URGENT

ALL THAT LOVING, war-experienced nursing care and medical skill can do is given these innocent little victims of Nazi horror-attacks. But... adequate nourishment is so essential to the rebuilding of nerve-wracked, shattered little bodies.

"So He Can Live" to rebuild Tomorrow his war-ravaged world of Today, this little chap, and countless boys and girls like him, must have milk—lots of nourishing milk—NOW.

In co-operation with the Kinsmen Clubs, the children and the people of Canada have sent more than twenty-five million quarts of Milk "Over There"... but, like Canadian youngsters, Britain's kiddies need milk every day.

Won't You Give... So He Can Live?

Chess Tournament Ends in Deadlock

SASKATOON (CP) — Abe Yanofsky, 20, Winnipeg, defending champion, and Frank Yehoff, Regina, Saskatchewan titleholder, finished the 13-round Dominion chess tournament Tuesday night, each with 10½ points.

Canon H. L. Roy of Winnipeg, president of the Canadian Chess Federation, has not decided yet whether the two players will play a 15th match or share the championship.

Meanwhile the tournament was adjourned—the first time a tournament has ended without a winner being declared.

Yanofsky and Yehoff each had

Britain Approves Polish Leaders

LONDON (Reuter) — The British government regards the list of Polish leaders who, following the recent conversations between Marshal Joseph Stalin and Harry Hopkins, have been invited to consult on the composition of the Polish Provisional Government of National Unity, as fully representative of Polish feeling as could be hoped for at the present time.

Answering questions on behalf of Foreign Secretary Eden, Richard Law, Minister of Education, told the House of Commons today that the Polish consultations would only be the first step towards the fulfilment of decisions, but the British government hoped they might lead to the formation of a government acceptable to all parties in Poland and such as would command the recognition of all the great powers.

Britain 'Hands Off' Greek Sentences

LONDON (CP) — Britain intends to adopt a hands-off policy in the cases of three Greek resistance leaders sentenced to death by the Greek government, Richard K. Law told the House of Commons today.

Speaking for the Foreign Office, he said the three—named Movadas, Bourdis and Archis—had been tried and sentenced both by court-martial and civil courts on charges of murder.

A Moscow dispatch Monday said the Dean of Canterbury, Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, now on a tour of Russia, had told the Soviet press he was joining in the protest against the sentences.

Mr. Law said Movadas was convicted of murder by the Athens criminal court, that Bourdis was convicted of three murders, and Archis of "a number of murders, including those of a woman and a man over 70."

Naval Discipline In Halifax Sound, Admiral Testifies

HALIFAX (CP) — Rear Admiral L. W. Murray, commander-in-chief, Canadian Northwest Atlantic, today was cross-examined on his testimony regarding the Navy's part in the May 78 VE-Day riots. It was the third day on the stand for Admiral Murray.

Cross-examining Admiral Murray before the Kellock Commission conducting the inquiry was associate counsel for the City of Halifax, C. O. Smith. The direct questioning was conducted Tuesday by Commission Counsel C. F. H. Carson and Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock, the Commissioners.

To a question as to whether the discipline in barracks was as good as he wished, the admiral said that early in 1944 it had been "one of my prime considerations and it was dealt with at that time."

Later, Admiral Murray said that generally he was "satisfied that our standards of discipline was high."

He described measures that had been taken, including the establishment of jeep patrols, to control naval personnel in the city, and said it was not true that in 1944 there was "something definitely wrong with naval discipline in Halifax."

Greatest Honors Britain Can Pay Given Eisenhower

LONDON (Reuter) — Queen Mary Tuesday night received Gen. Eisenhower, who earlier had received the Freedom of the City of London and been awarded the Order of Merit by the King.

The Allied Commander is the first United States soldier to receive the Order of Merit.

The British press meanwhile united today in heaping new praise on Gen. Eisenhower, who won the hearts of London's multitudes by the modest and unassuming manner in which he received the greatest honors this capital could bestow.

Commenting on the speech with which the Allied Supreme Commander accepted the Freedom of the City, the Daily Sketch declared Eisenhower was a man of words as well as action.

"The fundamental similarities of spirit and outlook that are the firm foundation of Anglo-American friendship and co-operation seldom—if ever—have found a better or more moving expression than in his speeches," the Sketch said.

The Times of London summed up a long editorial tribute by declaring:

"If history now begins to take the course toward a happier order, in which the curse of war shall at last be exorcised from human relations, no man of our time will have made a nobler contribution to that issue than this great American."

WAR VETERANS' CORNER

"Y" CENTRE IN GERMANY

First town club centre of the Y.M.C.A. War Services has been opened in Germany in Cleve, J. W. Eaton, war service officer and recent visitor here states. Formerly a Hitler Youth centre, the building has a gasproof air raid shelter with double steel doors and rubber-lined windows in the cellar. The new club is used by about 1,000 Canadian servicemen daily. The two-story structure is well furnished with articles the Germans left behind. On the staff of the club are four Germans, two men and two women, who do the menial jobs. They are picked up each morning from the town's concentration area, fed at noon by a local unit, and returned to the concentration area at night.

VETERANS AT U.B.C.

Some 175 veterans of the three services are now attending University of British Columbia under the government's rehabilitation program, and university authorities expect this to increase to nearly 400 by the end of this month as men returned from overseas adjust themselves and decide on the type of training.

LAUDS LOCAL AUTHORITY

Success in veteran rehabilitation depends largely on decentralization of authority, said Walter S. Woods, veterans affairs deputy minister during the three-day Ottawa conference of 16 rehabilitation superintendents from across Canada. Local officer who attended the meet, Major Stan Okell, said he came away with the firm impression that the department has sincere and capable men at Ottawa and in the field anxious to do a real job for veterans. Legislation was not discussed at the convention.

Rio to Present 'What a Woman'

"What a Woman" Columbia's comedy about a high-pressure artist's representative starring Rosalind Russell and Brian Aherne will open today at the Rio Theatre. It is said to be the merriest vehicle in which this pair of comedians has ever appeared, including "My Sister Eileen."

Others in the cast are: Willard Parker, new "he-man" screen sensation, Alan Dinehart, Edward Fielding, Alan Savage, Norma Varden, Douglas Wood and Grady Sutton. It was directed by Irving Cummings.

Where To Go Tonight

ATLAS — Helmut Dantine in "Hotel Berlin."
CADET — "The North Star," starring Anne Baxter.
CAPITOL — "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," starring Dorothy McGuire.
DOMINION — Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald in "Maytime." OAK BAY-PLAZA — "Brewster's Millions," starring Dennis O'Keefe and Gail Patrick.
RIO — Rosalind Russell in "What a Woman."
YORK — Cary Grant in "Arsenic and Old Lace."

'Maytime' Held Over At the Dominion

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's lavish musical offering, "Maytime," currently at the Dominion Theatre with Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in the starring roles. It may be said without fear of contradiction that the studio has gone far and beyond any beauty previously attained in the stage version. "Maytime" was a musical piece of gorgeous proportions as a stage play. It closely approaches the status of a musical masterpiece on the screen. The skilful adaptation was made by Noel Langley. The songs were written by Sigmund Romberg, composer of the original Broadway score, and by Herbert Stothart, who composed the film operetta "Czaritz," which provides a lovely sequence in the picture.

'Mrs. Parkington' York Presentation

Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon, the incomparable and unforgettable team which made box-office history with "Mrs. Miniver," "Blossoms in the Dust" and "Madame Curie," are together again on the screen in "Mrs. Parkington," as two of fiction's most colorful characters, in one of the year's lushest love stories.

Based on Louis Bromfield's best-selling novel, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film version of "Mrs. Parkington," which opens tomorrow at the York Theatre, marks a distinct departure from previous "husband and wife" portrayals of Pidgeon and Miss Garson. Fire, gaiety, power, worldliness are the dominating characteristics of Susie and Maj. Augustus Parkington.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

The hilarious film comedy, "Brewster's Millions," now playing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, deals with the always entertaining task of spending a million dollars. Most of us only dream of such a luxurious proposition, but Monty Brewster, played by Dennis O'Keefe, actually realizes this dream.

Edward Small produced the film from the novel of the same title by George Barr McCutcheon, and the play written around the book by Winchell Smith and Byron Ongley. Allan Dwan, a veteran of 37 years in the picture business, directed.

ATLAS THEATRE

Vicki Baum, author of the novel from which Warner Bros. "Hotel Berlin" now at the Atlas, was fashioned, had her first literary effort published at the tender age of 14. The story was a "short-short" and was published in a European magazine. "Hotel Berlin" boasts a superlative cast, headed by Faye Emerson, Raymond Massey, Peter Lorre, Helmut Dantine and Andrea King.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Betty Smith, author of the record-shattering best-seller, "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," has some 60 one-act plays and six full-length dramas to her credit—but "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" is her first novel. Twentieth Century-Fox's glorious film version of the book currently at the Capitol Theatre, starring Dorothy McGuire, Joan Blondell, James Dunn, Lloyd Nolan, Peggy Ann Garner and Ted Donaldson.

CADET THEATRE

Once more portraying a haughty German officer on the screen, Erich von Stroheim is cast as an arrogant Nazi military surgeon in "The North Star," now at the Cadet Theatre. Samuel Goldwyn's memorable new production for RKO Radio release, a romantic drama of Russia.

ABOUT

FINE EXAMPLE OF 'STITCH IN TIME'

You've heard the expression, "Out of sight, out of mind." How true that is of a roof. You seldom know what condition it is in until it begins to give you trouble. But why wait until damage is done? Why not have your Johns-Manville dealer or roofing contractor look your roof over to detect signs of trouble before trouble begins? He will be glad to help you and there's not the slightest obligation.

Johns-Manville, you know, has been in the roofing business for more than 85 years. Whether it's a shingle roof for a small cottage or a farm building, or a flat-top for a big factory, Johns-Manville has dependable, economical and long-lasting roofing materials for the job.

You'll be particularly interested in Johns-Manville roofing materials made with Asbestos for they give permanent protection against the menace of fire.

One Woman's Day... New York Stocks

By NANCY HODGES

HOWLERS—AND NOW!

CHATTING to a teacher the other day on educational methods, we chanced to speak on the growing tendency to do away with examinations.

And from that point we strayed to the subject of schoolboy "howlers." He regaled me with several from his capacious memory—at which I choked long and loud.

And a few days later sent me some samples from his own collection, together with a clipping from a school magazine which listed a number of other gems of juvenile erudition.

GOD'S FROZEN PEOPLE

FOR INSTANCE, I love the ideas of the younger mind with regard to the North American continent. Here are a few:

"Esquimaux are God's frozen people." "To protect the North American Indians the government has put them in reservoirs."

"Canadians raise boll weevils for their wool." "The Indian squabs carry porpoises on their backs."

"What is the Sound west of the State of Washington? The sound of the ocean." And, in answer to a question as to why we do not raise the silk worm in Canada, a precocious pupil replied:

"Because we get our silk from the rayon. He is a larger animal and gives more silk."

FUN FOR FARMERS

I SUPPOSE they were all written by children of the cities, but farmers—if they have any time to spare for a chuckle these busy days—will be entertained by the young idea of farming methods.

For instance, one bright lad averred that "Farmers rotate their crops so that they may get sun on all sides."

Which brings to my mind a picture of some Heath Robinson gadget, turned with a hand crank, on which the farmer sits and slowly revolves his growing grain and topping turnips!

Then another promising student discovered the profound truth that "Rural life is mostly found in the country." Evidently he, or she, had heard of "rural in urbe."

While a Covenanter teacher contributed this to the farming collection: "In the west the farming is done mostly by irritating the land."

AID FOR THE DROWNING

I HAVE HEARD about drowning men clutching at a straw, but I never before heard this deliciously novel suggestion for lifesaving:

"The benefit of longitude and latitude is that when a man is drowning he is in and we can find him."

So woe betide the swimmer who ventures out, without first finding out just where he is on the map!

And, while on the subject of water,

Downward Trend

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mines

were inclined to be lower while oils held fairly firm today.

Cariboo dropped 5 to 2.70 and Dentonia was down a fraction at 15 1/2. Pioneer slipped 25 to 5.75 and Taylor Bridge was down 7 at 70.

Davies was up 1 at 15 and McDougall was unchanged at 10. National Petroleum closed at 13 and Vulcan gained 3 to 25.

mariners will be interested in this piece of information—and I am sure it is news to them:

"A watershed is a shed in the middle of the sea where ships shelter during a storm."

While a budding scientist, when asked to define H₂O and CO₂, defined the first as hot water and the latter as cold, and added, "An example of hard water is ice."

NOVEL NATURAL HISTORY

SOME OF THE ANSWERS to examination papers on natural history are prize "boners." I chuckled over these:

"A myth is a female moth. A brunette is a young bear. A blizzard is the inside of a fowl."

A bat means only one thing to the lad who, when asked what does a bat do in winter, replied: "It splits if you don't oil it."

And there is more truth than poetry in the reply given by the pupil to the question: "Name three animals peculiar to the frigid region." For her answer read:

"The lion, the giraffe and the elephant would be PECULIAR to the frigid region, but the polar bear, the walrus and the seal live there."

HOME OF THE MORONS

H. L. MENCKEN would have loved the implication of this ethnological gem:

"The original tribes of Central America were the Aztecs, the CULTS and the MORONS."

Amusing anomalies about anatomy, culled from exam papers include: "The Kaffirs are a very savage race. In time of war they heat their tum-tums and can be heard for many miles around."

My tum-tum about which is that the soreness of their tum-tums had something to do with those Kaffirs being heard for miles around!

Then there was the bright pupil who gave this very realistic and free translation of "Pax in bello": "Freedom from indigestion."

After which it isn't surprising to learn that "Henry the Eighth had an abcess on his knee which made walking difficult."

VITAMIN-CONSCIOUS

MODERN YOUTH seems to be a bit foggy about nutrition, judging by these contributions:

"And the Spartan boy gave no sign of pain, although the fox gnawed his vitamins."

"Some vitamins prevent beri-beri. Others prevent scurvy-scurvy."

And some of our C.C.F. friends, I am sure, will enjoy a laugh over this evidence of a child whose political education seems to have been neglected:

"A Socialist is a man who goes to parties all the time."

While there may be a touch of youthful cynicism in these:

"Climate lasts all the time, but weather lasts only a few days."

"Immortality is running away with another man's wife."
